Featuring work from Dr Ramses Snoeckx and Prof. Dr Annemie Bogaerts from the research group PLASMANT, University of Antwerp, Belgium.

Plasma technology – a novel solution for CO₂ conversion?

Plasma technology could provide a viable solution for the conversion of CO₂ into value-added chemicals while the fate of the world hangs in the balance. The future of the Earth rests in our hands.

As featured in: